The course delivered by: The Europe Route Education Youth Sports and Culture Association, Manavgat, Turkey was designed as an interactive process with discussions, individual and team exercises. The focus was on experiential learning and workshop approaches, lectures and group discussions. It was based on presenting up-to-date knowledge, concepts, methodologies and examples from different countries. The participants saw examples of online assessment, worked on individual and team tasks to create eTests on MS Forms, Google Forms, LearningApps, H5P, Quizizz and Liveworksheets. One of the delivery methods during the course was the simulation of real lessons with students. Participants, most of the time, stepped in the shoes of their students practicing the online distance learning. That provided them with first-hand experience how to deliver the trainings to students after attending the course "eTests, eAssignments, eGames and other e Gadgets for Innovative Teachers".

The simulations were accompanied by discussions on different scenarios of delivering the training sessions suggested by the participants. Participants shared experiences and expertise on the topic and learned from one another. We had collaborative workshops: based on working in groups on a learning scenario, lesson plans, eTests or other learning resources for eAssessment to be used in our own schools. The training team was multinational - experienced trainers, who have participated in the design of the Teachers' Toolkit.

A visit to a local school Manavgat- "Namık Karamancı Fen Lisesi" that has already used the Teachers' Toolkit was an example of "Non formal in the classroom" and also they presented good practices of distance work with students and parents; also a trip to Side, one to Alanya to discover historical landmarks to be presented on the course platform using Padlet.

The validation of all participants to the structured course:

- Certificate of participation
- Declaration of attendance
- The competences acquired were validated by the course organisers on the Europass mobility
